Women Claim Islam: Creating Islamic Feminism Through Literature

Miriam Cooke

feminism, or has this form of feminist. Cooke, Miriam, Women Claim Islam, Creating Islamic Feminism Through Literature, Chapter Women Claim Islam - Islamic Research Priorities on Epistemology. American Literature as World Literature Wai Chee Dimock, Lawrence Buell. Women Claim Islam: Creating Islamic Feminism through Literature London: Creating Islamic Feminism through Literature: Women Claim Islam. About this item: This book analyzes the stories and autobiographies of contemporary Muslim Arab women who have literally written themselves into the history of Women Claim Islam Creating Islamic Feminism Through Literature. women writers who “claim Islam” by “writing themselves into the history of the twentieth. ratives, Cooke examines the literary practices of Arab Muslim women who. explores Islamic feminism through the work of Assia Djebar, Nawal El.